10. DOJ wrote that “[in addition to the likely illegality of this conduct, its impact on community trust cannot be overstated. The fear and anger created by these practices was obvious when we talked with individuals who reported these experiences. . . . what we found more broadly throughout our investigation: when practices like this are allowed to persist, CPD allows abusive officers to set the culture, undermining the hard work of CPD’s many good officers.” Id. (emphasis added).

1. Defendant is not liable to Plaintiff for any federal claim for which its employees or agents are not liable to Plaintiff. See City of Los Angeles v. Heller, 475 U.S. 796, 799 (1986).

2. To the extent Plaintiff failed to mitigate any of his claimed injuries or damages, any verdict or judgment obtained by Plaintiff must be reduced by application of the principle that Plaintiff has a duty to mitigate, commensurate with the degree of failure to mitigate attributed to Plaintiff by the jury in the case.

3. Defendant cannot be held liable for punitive or exemplary damages in any Section 1983 action brought against it directly or indirectly by the injured party or a third party. City of Newport et al. v. Fact Concerts, Inc., 435 U.S. 247 (1981).

4. Plaintiff fails to state a claim under which relief may be granted for Involuntary Servitude (Count III) and Forced Labor (Count IV). Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6). First, these laws and/or Amendments are not intended to introduce any new or novel doctrine such as the one plaintiff attempts to introduce here. See City of Chicago v. Kunowski, 308 Ill. 206, 208, 139 N.E. 28 (April 18, 1923)(internal citations omitted); see also U.S. v. Kozminski, 487 U.S. 931, 943-944, 108 S. Ct. 2751 (1988)(“Our precedents reveal that not all situations in which labor is compelled by physical coercion or force of law violate the Thirteenth Amendment . . . Similarly, the Court has recognized that the prohibition against involuntary servitude does not prevent the State or Federal Governments from compelling their citizens, by threat of criminal sanction, to perform civil duties.”)(internal citations omitted); Fulton v. Bartik, 547 F.Supp.3d 799 (N.D. Ill., July 1, 2021)(Thirteenth Amendment not implicated “where a prisoner is incarcerated pursuant to a presumptively valid judgment . . . even though the conviction may be subsequently reversed.”)(internal citations omitted); Loubser v. U.S., 6060 F. Supp.2d 897, 915 (alimony not type of subject matter Thirteenth Amendment was designed to address); Martinez v. Calimlim, 651 F.Supp.2d 852 (E.D. Wisc., Aug. 26, 2009)(Forced labor where family unlawfully trafficked victim into US and harbored her to exploit her labor.); Mohammed v. Sidecar Technologies, Inc., 2016 WL 6647946, at * 2 (N.D. Ill., Nov. 10, 2016)(allegations did not support that plaintiff continued to work at employer in a condition of servitude with no choice in the matter. Where there is still a choice, however painful, no involuntary servitude existed.) ; Wright v. Clark County, Ind., 132 F.3d 37 (7th Cir. 1997). Indeed civil remedies for forced labor is meant to be, and routinely applied, to human trafficking cases. See Ali v. Khan, 336 F.Supp.3d 901 (N.D. Ill., Aug. 21, 2018); Moulouki v. Epee, 262 F.Supp.3d 684 (N.D. Ill., June 29, 2017); Adia v. Grandeur Management, Inc., 933 F.3d 89 (2nd Cir. July 25, 2019); Lagayan v. Odeh, 199 F.Supp.3d 21 (D.C. Aug. 2, 2016); Ricchio v. McLean, 853 F.3d 553 (1st Cir. Apr. 5, 2017). Further, plaintiff fails to allege any facts whatsoever that he in fact, in any capacity, actually worked or performed any labor based on any promise by the Chicago Police Department to allegedly reduce charges he faced. See plaintiff's Complaint, generally (ECF No. 1).

5. Plaintiff's claims may be barred by the doctrine of collateral estoppel and/or Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477, 114 S.Ct. 2364, 129 L.Ed.2d 383 (1994), depending on the outcome of plaintiff's underlying criminal case in People v. Eddie Delk, 20119554401.
